Youths' Empowerment Society (YES)

This initiative was implemented to help to facilitate students who are having problems in sitting college examinations. In addition, the initiative also seeks to inspire male students to become confident especially in carrying out presentations, public speaking etc.

Rational:

In contemporary societies like Jamaica, students have been faced with a number of ill fortunes such as falling victims to stereotyping and marginalization. As a result, a great portion of the male population caught up in prisons, gangs, etc. In addition, other issues also affects the student population such low enrolment at the tertiary level education and for those pursuing an education, faced poor performance in sitting courses or subjects.

At Bethlehem Moravian College, we are facing similar problems which is existent within our society. As a result, the Guild of Students (AY 2015/2016) grabs the opportunity of launching programme to mobilizing the male population.

Activities:

1. Presenting strategies in decoding coursework and examination questions effectively.
2. Presenting adequate writing strategies in writing examination papers.
3. Exposing male students to public speaking, presentations and debating.
4. Engaging male students in wide range of activities foster problem solving skills based on present day situations.
5. Engaging male students in a number of team building sessions.
